

The Calder Cleland Memorial Trophy

CANADIAN SPORTS RICHEST REWARD

by CRAIG SWAYZE

It is Canada's most valuable sports award. And it goes to the winners of the Men's Senior Eight, the final race on today's Canadian Secondary Schools Rowing Championships program.

The Calder Cleland Memorial Trophy was presented to the Henley Aquatic Association of St. Catharines by the late W.B. Cleland in memory of his son, Calder, who was killed while serving with the Royal Canadian Air Force during the Second World War. It consists of an elaborate inlaid gold and silver Omar Khayyam wine jug mounted on a black wood base.

This exquisite 30-inch-high jug, now valued at more than $200,000, was created in 1853 by the gold and silversmiths of England as a gift for the Scottish born Empress Eugenie upon her marriage to Louis Napoleon of France. Hand chased, it carries three separate hallmarks of that period.

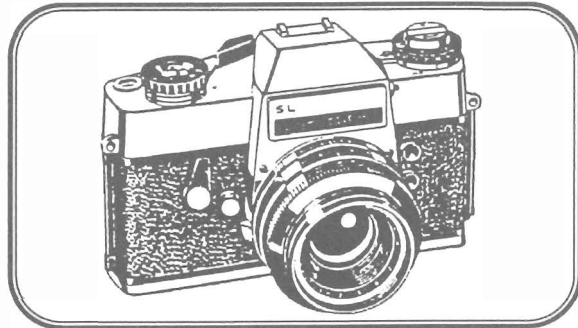

It is the only one of its kind, all the more valuable in that the expertise to create such beauty is no longer available.

The Calder Cleland Memorial Trophy was originally raced for at the Royal Canadian Henley Regatta. When the Henley dropped schoolboy events in 1973, it was put up for competition at the CSSRA Championships.

As valuable as it is, the impressive trophy with its leaves of gold and silver en-twined around winged dragons and hunting scenes appears on the rowing scene but once a year. Tomorrow, it will be returned to Toronto for display in Canada's Sports Hall of Fame.

CANADIAN SECONDARY SCHOOLS ROWING ASSOCIATION

The Board of Directors of the Canadian Secondary Schools Rowing Association welcomes all athletes, coaches, school faculty members, parents, guests, and friends of rowing to the 49th Championship Regatta.

On behalf of the directors I thank all staging volunteers, medical volunteers, on water volunteers and officials whose commitment to successful championship regattas has resulted in admiration and compliments from competitors, coaches, club personnel, spectators, and guests. To these dedicated volunteers a sincere thank you.

In welcoming you, the athlete, to the championship regatta, our hope as directors is that you have a safe and a successful regatta.
